Gave Big Sums To Elect Teddy

Treasurer Sheldon Gives Names of the Fat Contributors.

TWO MILLION DONATED IN 1904

National Committee Treasurer of 1908 Testifies He Had Seen the Amounts on a List Shown Him by Cornelius Bliss, Senior—Also Declares 73 Per Cent of Roosevelt Fund Was Made by Corporations.

Washington, Oct. 3.—George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee in 1908, testified before the Clapp investigating committee that in 1904, when Theodore Roosevelt ran for president, the Standard Oil company under John D. Archbold's name contributed $100,000; J. P. Morgan & Company, $100,000; H. C. Frick, $100,000, and George J. Gould, $100,000.

Sheldon said he had seen the amounts on a list shown him by Cornelius Bliss, Sr., before the latter's death. This list is supposed to have been among those destroyed by Bliss during his last illness.

Mr. Sheldon expressed his belief that the corporations contributed 73½ per cent of the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904.

One million eight hundred thousand dollars was the approximate amount mentioned by Sheldon as the total of the 1904 contributions.

This is the first corroborative evidence that has been obtained by the senate committee in support of the Penrose charges since John D. Archbold testified.

Mr. Sheldon added another interesting item when he testified that Mr. Bliss' statement of the 1904 campaign receipts and expenditures, which was audited by Mr. Sheldon, did not indicate in any way that the $100,000 of Standard Oil money ever was returned.

Senator Dixon on Stand.

Joseph M. Dixon, Mr. Roosevelt's campaign manager, was another witness examined by the committee. He proved to be the most obstreperous, and the committee spent several hours wrangling with him in a most undignified manner.

Only two facts of large importance were brought out in the course of Dixon's testimony. One was that he personally had raised $95,000 in the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign. This was in addition to the $141,000 collected by the Roosevelt campaign committee treasurer, the $52,000 raised in New York county and the $130,000 expended by William Flinn in Pennsylvania. Mr. Dixon said that George W. Perkins, Frank A. Munsey and Dan R. Hanna each contributed $25,000 to his fund of $95,000.

Dixon's Allegations.

Dixon also declared that he had been reliably informed that Thomas F. Ryan and A. H. Plant, auditor of the Southern railway, had contributed heavily to Oscar W. Underwood's campaign; that Joseph E. Davis spent $38,000 in Governor William B. Ewing's campaign; that Charles P. Taft had spent $600,000 for his brother, the president, and that "leading financiers of New York had spent large sums for Governor Harmon."

When asked for the source of his information regarding the large sums alleged to have been spent for President Taft, Dixon made evasive replies. He finally stated that advertising men told him of big billboard contracts made by the Taft people, and that Walter Brown had told him nearly $100,000 had been spent in Ohio for advertising.

Pierpont Morgan Testifies Today. Washington, Oct. 3.—J. P. Morgan will appear before the investigating committee today, to be questioned as to his financial participation in the 1904 or other national campaigns.

New York Democrats Select the Head of Their Ticket.

AWARD GLYNN SECOND PLACE

Parker In Accepting the Post of Permanent Chairman of the Convention Declares He Is a Progressive Democrat—Sulzer Nominated at Midnight on the Fourth Ballot. Proceedings of the Session.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Congressman William Sulzer of New York was nominated for governor early today by the Democratic state convention, and Martin E. Glynn of Albany was named for lieutenant governor, the nomination in each case being made unanimous. Congressman Sulzer's nomination came on the fourth ballot, after the supporters of Governor Dix had thrown their strength to him and other candidates had withdrawn from the race. Mr. Glynn was without opposition for second place on the ticket.

Judge Alton B. Parker was chosen as permanent chairman of the convention, and in his speech of acceptance declared himself to be a progressive Democrat.

The selection of Parker as chairman was bitterly opposed by friends of Governor Wilson and W. J. Bryan, who declared he is not a progressive. Parker made a speech, the first since the Baltimore convention, in which he defended his course and that of the other New York delegates at the Baltimore convention. He said that the action of the delegates was intended to promote harmony.

The platform ratifies the Democratic national platform, pledges its support to Wilson and Marshall and condemns what it styles the "monopolistic tariff evils" of the Republican party. Governor Dix's administration is described as "efficient, clean and economical."

The platform pledges the legislature to provide for a constitutional convention to pass on the initiative, the referendum and the short ballot, and declares in favor of submitting the woman suffrage amendment to the people "as soon as possible."

Bull Moosers Appeal Today To the Courts For Reversal

Would Have Secretary Graves' Decision Overruled by High Court.

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Progressives today will bring an action in mandamus in the supreme court in an effort to have the decision given Tuesday by Secretary of State Graves overruled. The decision forbade the printing on the ballot twice of the names of county, legislative and congressional candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties who have been endorsed by the Progressives. Both Republican and Democratic state headquarters expect Secretary Graves' ruling will be upheld by the supreme court, composed of three Republican and three Democratic judges.

Fear Organized Labor.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 3.—Fear of organized labor, should they sit upon the jury to try the iron workers indicted for alleged dynamiting, was the distinguishing feature of the efforts to get a jury, and more than one of the venire called here from his home in the mining districts or cities where organized labor is very strong indicated a reluctance to act and managed to be excused. B. F. Haynes, a merchant of Linton, which is in the coal fields, told the court plainly that he was afraid to sit on the jury, as it might ruin his business.

Farmer Out $4,000

Swindler Operates Successfully in Stark County, Ohio.

Canton, O., Oct. 3.—The filing of a deed to a farm owned by Uriah C. Ward, a prosperous farmer near here, has resulted in the declaration from Ward that the deed is a forgery. It has also been brought to light that James Heidman of New Cumberland, O., had accepted a bogus mortgage on the farm for $4,000.

According to Ward, a man who gave the name of Joseph W. Bishop negotiated with him to buy his farm for $13,000, but no trade was made. Meantime, a deed for the farm in the name of Bishop was left with the Stark county recorder. A mortgage for $4,000 in favor of Heidman was filed. Heidman says he lent money to Bishop. Bishop has not been seen by Heidman since last Thursday.

Rear Admiral Lucien Young Dies Suddenly In New York

New York, Oct. 3.—Rear Admiral Lucien Young, U. S. N., died at the Waldorf-Astoria of an intestinal hemorrhage. He was ill about 20 hours.

Admiral Young was in excellent health until Tuesday, when he suddenly became ill. The attack did not seem very severe at first. Word was sent to Cardinal Farley, a personal friend, when it was seen that Admiral Young could not live. Father Hughes of the cathedral clergy went to the Waldorf immediately, arriving a few minutes before Admiral Young died. The patient was unconscious when the priest got there and the last rites were not administered. The body was taken to the Brooklyn navy yard today and later will be sent to Washington, where the funeral will be held.

Lucien Young was born at Lexington, Ky., March 31, 1852.

The Turkish Army Rampant Destroy Town In Serbia

Actual Violence Reported in the Balkan Imbroglio.

London, Oct. 3.—Actual violence in the Balkan imbroglio has commenced, according to word received here from Belgrade. A Turkish patrol of 50 soldiers devastated the Serbian frontier town of Ruska after firing volley after volley into the town. The inhabitants fled.

With the curt refusal by the Turkish cabinet to surrender the shipment of Serbian war ammunition which was seized by Turkey while passing through, the impression here that it will take the united efforts of the powers to prevent war is growing in strength. Turkey added to the list of injuries which Greece, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Serbia have sustained by detaining 52 Greek ships which were in her ports. These vessels are being held so that in case war is declared the Turkish government can use them as Turkish transports.

The inter-Balkan peninsula is being turned into a war camp, and a million or more troops are rapidly assembling there. Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro are united in this mobilization, and the desired effect is a show of war strength so that Turkey will be awed.

The four states in the new Balkan alliance are working in harmony in this matter, and all the troops will be spread along the frontier. For the first time these states are acting together against the common enemy.

The uniformed armies being sent to the front number 460,000. Of these Bulgaria sends 250,000, Serbia 110,000, Montenegro 50,000 and Greece 50,000. These countries all have universal "military service," so the men will be well trained and armed.

Progressives Are Injured

Lima, O., Oct. 3.—An auto party of Progressives, bound for a Progressive meeting at Wapakoneta, was thrown into a ditch near here when the driver of the car turned out to avoid a collision with a lost cow. The members of the party were painfully bruised. In the machine were Elmer W. Rudy of Lima, Third district congressional candidate; William Kirtley, Jr., of Defiance, candidate for state treasurer, and J. B. Atkins and Dr. J. C. Pence of Lima. The machine, which was running 30 miles an hour, was wrecked.

CAPTAIN ALFRED BISHOP BEERS, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was a soldier at the age of sixteen and served throughout the civil war. He enlisted as a private in the Sixth Connecticut volunteers, and during his military career he was mentioned in regimental orders for bravery and meritorious service in the field and was several times promoted, reaching the rank of captain in 1864. He participated in the campaign against Richmond, the siege of Petersburg, the James River campaign and the capture of Fort Fisher. After the war Captain Beers became a lawyer in Bridgeport, Conn., and was judge of the city court for seventeen years.

Roosevelt In New York

Leaves Tonight For Washington to Appear Before Probers.

New York, Oct. 3.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived at Oyster Bay after a 10,300-mile speaking tour, and there was not a word he said about anything anybody might have been swearing to down at Washington regarding campaign contributions in 1904 from certain persons and corporations. The colonel will be in town this evening and will be at the dinner table with George W. Perkins, Frank A. Munsey, Senator Joseph M. Dixon, his national chairman, and William H. Hotchkiss, his state chairman. At midnight the colonel leaves for Washington to appear tomorrow before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions.

W. C. T. U. In Convention.

Lima, O., Oct. 3.—With 500 delegates present, the state meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union is in session here. Committee meetings and annual reports occupied the first day. The election report showed that 32,218 women are members of the union in Ohio.

American Vice Consul in Durango and Two Other Americans Reported Murdered by the Insurgents. Federal Troopers In Hot Pursuit of the Marauders—Fresh Revolts in the South of Mexico.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 3.—Two hundred and five men were killed in a battle between Mexican rebels and federals at Aura Pass, not far from Monclova, Mexico, according to reports that have reached here. Seven federal officers were reported killed. There were about 500 men on each side, the federals being commanded by General Banque. The rebels retreated in the face of federal reinforcements.

Allen MacCagha, American vice consul in Durango, and two other Americans were murdered by Mexican rebels, United States Ambassador Wilson was informed. In a dispatch from American Consul Hamm in Durango it is stated that rebels

SOME REQUIREMENTS.

In compliance with the order of the United States post-office authorities issued as required by a recent enactment of the Congress of the nation, The Herald publishes in this issue, at the head of this column, a statement of the ownership and the circulation.

The gist of the Federal law under which this statement is required to be made is also published in this issue.

We believe that the law is deserving of recommendation. It may work hardships in some particular instances, but the purpose it is designed to serve is certainly a worthy one and it is axiomatic that almost all laws of a general nature work harshly in some particular instances.

It is claimed by many that the law is an unwarranted attempt by the Federal government to interfere with private rights and private property, and is a direct slap at the freedom of the press.

We fail to see any provision in the law which in any way abridges the rights of the free press.

It will, in many instances, although not always, disclose the identity of the person or the institution in reality controlling the policy of the paper so that statements of fact and arguments on matters political and governmental may receive the full credit which the interest, bias or prejudice, of the real controlling power warrants. No more and no less.

The law is aimed directly at the large magazines and daily newspapers which wield such a powerful influence in molding public opinion.

These publications, being recognized, in our enlightened time, as quasi public servants or public utilities we might say, are according many privileges at the expense of the public which are either denied to or are unavailable to the individual, exercising his private personal rights only.

In most instances the larger publications are owned nominally by corporations—purely creations of the law, invisible, intangible and "non get at able"—and as such are not subject to be called to account as an individual might be.

They are accorded for instances that privilege of the mails which makes the Postoffice department lose money, requiring the people to make up the deficit. They may comment with an absolute freedom upon public officials. They have the means to knock a good proposal to death and they have the means to boost an unwholesome proposition into law or a dangerous man into public office. They can be converted into weapons in the hands of designing men or interests, against which the people are helpless to combat.

There is no grander civilizing influence than a free press, there is no greater vehicle to carry the people along the weary way to that ideal time when a pure democracy will be practical than an honest press and there is no greater menace to free government, no stronger shackle upon liberty, no more despicable and dishonest thing than a subsidized press.

It does not in the least, it seems to us, leaving out of consideration fine spun legal technicalities, abridge the freedom of the press or interfere with private rights to let the people know not only who is attacking this, that or the other candidate, proposal or law, and advocating so earnestly this, that or the other candidate, principle or policy, but who and what it is that causes it to be done.

It will be noted that no penalty attaches to publishers for failure to make publication until after ten days' notice by registered letter of the failure to do so and it may be that under this provision many publishers will escape a public disclosure.

The spirit of the law requires that the knowledge be given to the readers at once and The Herald complies cheerfully with that requirement. Not only because we believe it to be a good law, but good or bad it is the law and should be obeyed and not evaded even though that may be possible.

Poetry For Today

A TELELULLABY.

("Mrs. — was at a whist drive at Steubenville, Ohio, when she received a telephone message from her nurse that the baby had been crying for an hour. Soon afterward the guests were surprised to hear Mrs. — singing a lullaby into the transmitter. Telephone lullabies are now becoming quite common at this resort."—Daily Express.)

Oh, hush thee, my babe, from thy walling desist,
Thy mother is busy whist-driving, so whist!
But, if thou must still raise a piteous moan,
She'll sing thee a lullaby over the phone.

Secure in thy cradle, what hast thou to fear?
Just keep the receiver pressed close to thy ear,
And when thou art wuffed to Hushaby Land
Then mother can go and continue the hand.

Small cause for thy tears or thy infantile dumps,
For mother is holding a fist full of trumps,
Her score is colossal, and, sweet—art thou there?
Of all that she wins she will give thee a share.

Nay, try to forget there's pain in thy tum,
And hark to the wires, how they buzz and they hum;
For thee they are making that music—hello!
And baby shall have it wherever I go.

Sweet slumber attend thee, with visions of bliss;
In token I send you this telephone kiss.
Weep not, then, my angel, but smother that cough;
They're calling for mamma; so, baby, ring off.
—Punch.

FEDERAL LAW REQUIRING THE DISCLOSURE OF CONTROLLING POWERS

Revolutionary Regulations of Law Governing Publications Using United States Mails.

Sec. 467 1-2. It shall be the duty of the editor, publisher, business manager, or owner of every newspaper, magazine, periodical, or other publication to file with the Postmaster General and the postmaster at the office at which said publication is entered, not later than the first day of April and the first day of October of each year, on blanks furnished by the Post Office Department, a sworn statement setting forth the names and post-office addresses of the editor and managing editor, publisher, business managers, and owners, and, in addition, the stockholders, if the publication be owned by a corporation; and also the names of known bondholders, mortgagees, or other security holders; and also, in the case of daily newspapers, there shall be included in such statement the average of the number of copies of each issue of such publication sold or distributed to paid subscribers during the preceding six months: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to religious, fraternal, temperance, and scientific, or other similar publications: Provided further, That it shall not be necessary to include in such statement the names of persons owning less than one per centum of the total amount of stock, bonds, mortgages, or other securities. A copy of such sworn statement shall be published in the second issue of such newspaper, magazine, or other publication printed next after the filing of such statement. Any such publication shall be denied the privileges of the mail if it shall fail to comply with the provisions of this paragraph within ten days after notice by registered letter of such failure. (Act of August 24, 1912.)

2. All editorial or other reading matter published in any such newspaper, magazine, or periodical for the publication of which money or other valuable consideration is paid, accepted, or promised, shall be plainly marked "advertisement." Any editor or publisher printing editorial or other reading matter for which compensation is paid, accepted, or promised without so marking the same, shall upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction, be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500). (Act of August 24, 1912.)

3. The statement required by this section shall be made in duplicate, on Form 3526, and both copies delivered to the postmaster at the office of entry of the publication. The postmaster will forward one copy to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Classification), and retain the other in the files of the post office. To enable publishers to file such statement promptly, postmasters will furnish them copies of Form 3526 at least ten days prior to the first days of April and October of each year.

4. Postmasters will obtain for the files of their offices two copies of the issue of each publication at their respective offices, in which the required sworn statement is published.

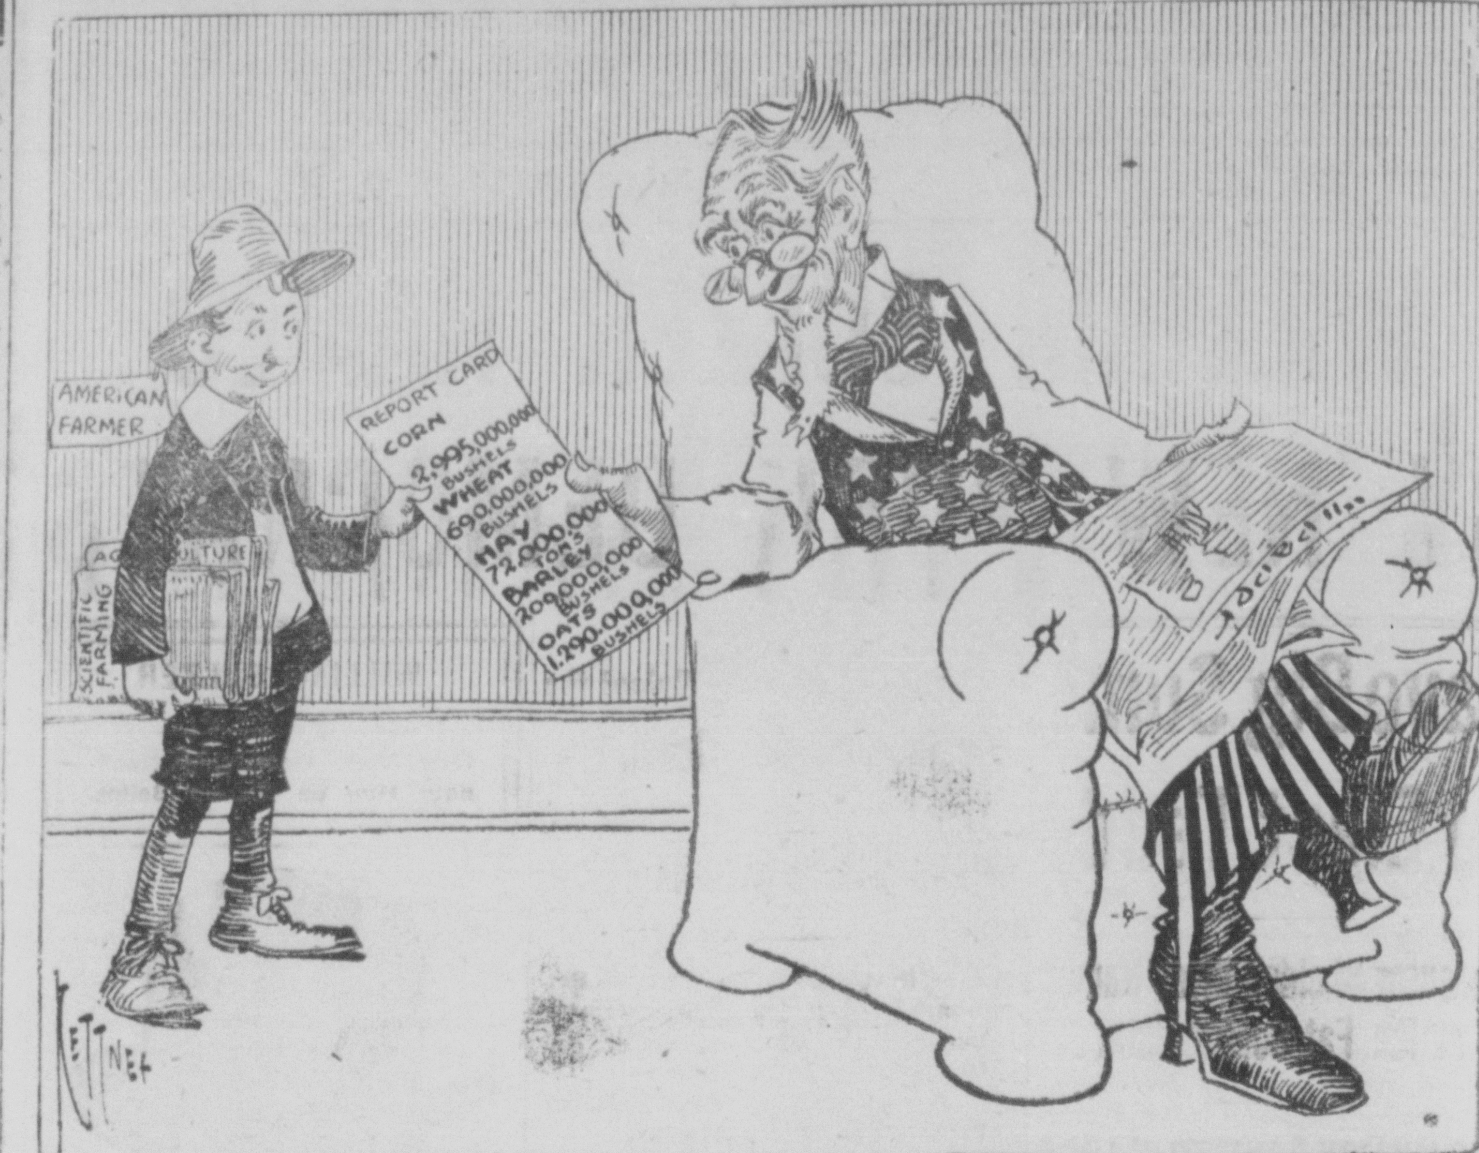

5. Postmasters must give prompt and careful attention to the making and filing by publishers of the statements required by this section, and promptly report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General the failure of any publisher to file such statement, or to publish it in the second issue of the publication printed next after it has been filed, but in no case shall a publication be denied the privileges of the mail except upon Departmental instructions.

SOME REQUIREMENTS.

In compliance with the order of the United States post-office authorities issued as required by a recent enactment of the Congress of the nation, The Herald publishes in this issue, at the head of this column, a statement of the ownership and the circulation.

The gist of the Federal law under which this statement is required to be made is also published in this issue.

We believe that the law is deserving of commendation. It may work hardships in some particular instances, but the purpose it is designed to serve is certainly a worthy one and it is axiomatic that almost all laws of a general nature work harshly in some particular instances.

It is claimed by many that the law is an unwarranted attempt by the Federal government to interfere with private rights and private property, and is a direct slap at the freedom of the press.

We fail to see any provision in the law which in any way abridges the rights of the free press.

It will, in many instances, although not always, disclose the identity of the person or the institution in reality controlling the policy of the paper so that statements of fact and arguments on matters political and governmental may receive the full credit which the interest, bias or prejudice, of the real controlling power warrants. No more and no less.

The law is aimed directly at the large magazines and daily newspapers which wield such a powerful influence in molding public opinion.

These publications, being recognized, in our enlightened tune, as quasi public servants or public utilities we might say, are according many privileges at the expense of the public which are either denied to or are unavailable to the individual, exercising his private personal rights only.

In most instances the larger publications are owned nominally by corporations—purely creations of the law, invisible, intangible and “non get at able”—and as such are not subject to be called to account as an individual might be.

They are accorded for instances that privilege of the mails which makes the Postoffice department lose money, requiring the people to make up the deficit. They may comment with an absolute freedom upon public officials. They have the means to knock a good proposal to death and they have the means to boost an unwholesome proposition into law or a dangerous man into public office. They can be converted into weapons in the hands of designing men or interests, against which the people are helpless to combat.

There is no grander civilizing influence than a free press, there is no greater vehicle to carry the people along the weary way to that ideal time when a pure democracy will be practical than an honest press and there is no greater menace to free government, no stronger shackle upon liberty, no more despicable and dishonest thing than a subsidized press.

It does not in the least, it seems to us, leaving out of consideration fine spun legal technicalities, abridge the freedom of the press or interfere with private rights to let the people know not only who is attacking this, that or the other candidate, proposal or law, and advocating so earnestly this, that or the other candidate, principle or policy, but who and what it is that causes it to be done.

It will be noted that no penalty attaches to publishers for failure to make publication until after ten days' notice by registered letter of the failure to do so and it may be that under this provision many publishers will escape a public disclosure.

The spirit of the law requires that the knowledge be given to the readers at once and The Herald complies cheerfully with that requirement. Not only because we believe it to be a good law, but good or bad it is the law and should be obeyed and not evaded even though that may be possible.

Poetry For Today

A TELELULLABY.

“Mrs. ——— was at a whist drive at Steubenville, Ohio, when she received a telephone message from her nurse that the baby had been crying for an hour. Soon afterward the guests were surprised to hear Mrs. ——— singing a lullaby into the transmitter. Telephone lullabies are now becoming quite common at this resort.”—Daily Express.)

Oh, hush thee, my babe, from thy willing desist,
Thy mother is busy whist-driving, so whist!
But, if thou must still raise a piteous moan,
She'll sing thee a lullaby over the phone.

Secure in thy cradle, what hast thou to fear?
Just keep the receiver pressed close to thy ear.
And when thou art wafled to Hushaby Land
Then mother can go and continue the hand.

Small cause for thy tears or thy infantile dumps,
For, mother is holding a fist full of trumps,
Her score is colossal, and, sweet—art thou there?
Of all that she wins she will give thee a share.

Nay, try to forget there's pain in thy tum,
And hark to the wires, how they buzz and they hum;
For thee they are making that music—hello!
And baby shall have it wherever I go.

Sweet slumber attend thee, with visions of bliss;
In token I send you this telephone kiss.
Weep not, then, my angel, but smother that cough;
They're calling for mamma; so, baby, ring off.

Two Hundred Men Perish

raided the ranch of a Mr. Cliff, murdered Cliff and his manager, Herbert L. Russell, and MacCaghn.

The San Juan Taviche ranch, owned by Cliff, is in the northeast part of Durango. No details of the murder were given. Forty federal troopers have been sent in pursuit of the rebels, who were led by Luis Caro, Consul Hamm urges that Ambassador Wilson demand that a larger force of federals be stationed at Durango.

A new turn was given to the already serious situation in the south of Mexico by the receipt of news of fresh revolts in that region. It is stated that General Aguilar, the former federal commander, has wiped out a force of 200 federal soldiers at Tehuacan, and that General Felix Diaz has taken up arms against the government in northern Puebla, at a place called Zacapoaxtla. No official report has been received of the alleged arrest of the two officers of the Ninth cavalry, said to be charged with illegal entry to the house of a Mexican proprietor of a hotel in Douglas.

SAVED BY HIS WIFE.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F. "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Nicaraguan Rebels Lose In Last Fight With Federals

Defeated in an Attack on Nicaraguan Government Forces.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Nicaraguan rebels were defeated in an attack on government forces at LaPaz, according to state department advices. Rebels from Leon, under Julian Irias, the exile, who came from Costa Rica to join the revolution, were repulsed by the government forces under General Viquez, though the latter had only 800 men against the 2,000 soldiers in the rebel force. It is stated that the rebels lost heavily in the engagement. They are now being pursued by cavalry of the government forces.

The President "Meets Up" With Marshall

Boston, Oct. 3.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice president, shook hands with President Taft just before the banquet of the supreme council, Scottish Rite Masons, at which both were guests. President Taft joked with Governor Marshall for a few moments on the wear and tear of campaigning and then both passed into the banquet hall.

Sixty Miles An Hour Was Speed Maintained

Ralph DePalma Wins the Vanderbilt Cup Automobile Race.

Wauwatosa, Wis., Oct. 3.—Ralph DePalma, driving a Mercedes car, won the eighth Vanderbilt cup automobile race in 4 hours, 20 minutes and 31.54 seconds for a distance of 259 miles 2,764 feet. This was an average of 69 miles an hour, below Mulford's time at Savannah. The cash prize was $6,500. Hughie Hughes, Mercer, was second.

Diamond Smuggling

New York, Oct. 3.—Many complaints of diamond smuggling across the border from Canada have been coming into the customs house, and Customs Agent Wilson arrested Herman Sagman, a salesman for the firm of Friedlander & Bartowsky of 6 Maiden Lane. Wilson took diamonds worth $2,650 from Sagman. Sagman was bound over to the grand jury.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Worst Mentioned as Successor.
Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Quick work will be necessary on the part of the Democratic congressional committee of the Thirteenth district to select a successor to Congressman Carl C. Anderson of Fostoria, candidate for reelection, who was killed in an automobile accident near that city. But a few days remain in which to fill the vacancy. It is said that John R. Worst of Sandusky county, who has been in training to succeed Anderson for some time, will probably be selected for the vacancy.

Sheriff's Profits Cut.
Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—Acting on the report of the Municipal association, which recently charged that Sheriff Hirstius makes an annual profit of $8,000 from feeding prisoners, the county commissioners reduced the allowance for feeding jail inmates by terminating Hirstius' contract for 50 cents per prisoner and substituting one for 45 cents. Hirstius formerly got 75 cents for feeding each insane prisoner. This amount was also reduced to 45 cents.

Four Hurt In Collision.
Canal Dover, O., Oct. 3.—Two girls and two men were hurt in a collision between a Canal Dover-Urichville interurban car and a work car, near Goshen. A fog caused the accident. The injured: Frank Hicks, motorman of interurban car, leg crushed; Vora Thomas, 16, of Barnhill, hips broken; Anna Thomas, 25, of Barnhill, leg crushed; Orin Vorhees, conductor of work car, face cut, arm sprained.

Ditches Auto to Save Dog.
Dennison, O., Oct. 3.—In order to avoid running over a dog asleep in the road, Edward Rittenhouse steered his automobile into a ditch between Deersville and Urichville. The car turned turtle, pinning its occupants underneath. Mith Ethel Finney, 25, suffered broken arms and internal injuries. Rittenhouse was injured about his legs and spine and his wife was bruised.

Skull Fractured In a Fall.
Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Etta Miller, 57, wife of Rev. L. W. Miller of Shepard, is at Grant hospital with a fractured skull, sustained when she fell from a car while alighting near the home of her niece, Miss Evelyn G. Miller.

Canton Workmen Strike.
Canton, O., Oct. 3.—About 500 workmen, members of the Industrial Workers of the World, at the plant of the Diebold Safe and Lock company here, are on strike. They demanded recognition of their organization.

Top of Head Sawed Off.
Norwalk, O., Oct. 3.—A. D. Morton, a farmer and justice of the peace of Fitchville township, while handling a log in a mill near there fell on the saw and was instantly killed. The top of his head was sawed off.

Farmer's Machine Overturned.
Bowling Green, O., Oct. 3.—Delasus Mercer, 63, a retired farmer, was killed two miles south of this city when his automobile overturned. He made too wide a turn in passing a buggy while going rapidly.

Died at Telephone.
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 3.—A telephone message that he was about to be arrested charged with operating a handbook so frightened Joseph Schickling, 52, here that he dropped dead at the telephone.

Heney Coming to Ohio.
Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Francis J. Heney, San Francisco graft prosecutor, will be sent into Ohio Oct. 8 by the Bull Moose national committee. Heney has asked to be billed for Toledo that night.

SAVES LEG OF BOY.

"It seemed that my 14-year old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Mayor Crushed Under Automobile.
Tippecanoe City, O., Oct. 3.—L. T. Sheets, twice mayor of Tippecanoe City, was killed in an automobile accident near Vandalia, and his companion, Miss Ethel Hartman, was badly bruised. The two were returning from an opera at Dayton, when the automobile struck a rut and overturned.

Squirrel Hunter Killed.
Lancaster, O., Oct. 3.—Noah Smith, 30, married, was fatally injured while hunting squirrels in the woods near here. James Hoover, a neighbor, and his companion on the hunting expedition, took Smith's gray cap for a squirrel and shot through the bushes.

Ettor Trial Halted.
Salem, Mass., Oct. 3.—The Ettor trial has been halted until Oct. 14 and the sheriff has been ordered to summon 350 new talesmen. The first venire was exhausted except five men when the court adjourned, and but two jurors were selected, making a total of four. The court will hear arguments Monday on a motion to admit defendants to bail.

GREW HAIR IN SIX WEEKS.

"Mary, have you read what Baroness Ramsey says about Mrs. Mason's Hair Treatment? In her letter which I saw she declares that it produced a considerable growth of hair in only six weeks."

"Yes, Grace, and lots of our best people here in Washington C. H. used to send to New York for Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream before Blackmer & Tanquary our local druggists took the agency for it." "I am using it myself now, it is so easy to wash one's own hair with it and you know it produces a stimulating and luxurious lather which not only removes the dust, dirt, grit and dandruff from the hair and scalp, but at the same time you are rubbing the tonic properties of this famous herb shampoo into the roots of the hair, which stops it coming out and stimulates the growth—just as water does a plant. It makes the hair so beautifully clean, soft and fluffy that it looks twice as thick as it really is. A 25c. tube is sufficient for three or four shampoos and they offer to return your money if you don't like it."

Thoughtful John Chinaman.
"The virtues of a Chinese laundryman never have been half told," said the woman. "Not of my laundryman, anyhow. He is such a motherly old soul. The other day he brought my handkerchiefs home folded in two different ways, some squared, some cat-cornered."

"Why the different styles in ironing?" I asked.
"John pointed to the stack of cat-cornered handkerchiefs. 'These holes,' he said. Then to the square pile, 'These good. In big hully, not gettin' mix' and go out with holey hankchiefs.' Kind old John. His idea was all right, but doesn't keep me from getting mixed, for I can never remember which shape means holey and which means whole, so I am likely to disgrace myself with a holey handkerchief after all."

Hints to Brides.
If a wife or prospective bride wishes to have a happy married life, she may rest assured that her desires will be gratified if she bears in mind the following "don'ts."

Don't marry a man for a living, but for love. Don't overdo, or the reverse. Common sense is better than style. Never, when married, get the idea that the way to run a house is to run away from it, or that it is right to lecture your neighbors on how to bring up their children, while you are neglecting your own.
Don't nag. Nothing is so likely to send your husband out of the house as that.

CIGAR BOXES OF CARDBOARD

Cheap Material Now Used in Exact Imitation of the More Costly Spanish Cedar.

There are now made cigar boxes of cardboard in such exact imitation of Spanish cedar boxes that they might anywhere be taken for the real things. Three layers of a cardboard specially made for the purpose are pressed together to produce a board of precisely the right thickness, and then upon the outer side there is printed, from an engraved plate and with correct coloring, a photographic reproduction of a sheet of actual Spanish cedar; this reproduction showing the grain of the wood with all its variations and even the tiny little knots, if there are any.

The bottom and the sides for a cardboard box are cut out all in one piece, so that they require neither nailing nor sewing. The end pieces, cut out separately, are wire stitched in by machine, and then the cover is put on, being hinged with the usual piece of muslin.

These cardboard boxes made in imitation of cedar are finished in regulation manner, paper lined and with the usual paper flap to cover the cigars. The outer edges are paper bound in the usual fashion. In its finished state the box contains one nail, the nail always found at the center of the front edge of the cigar box to hold the cover down. These boxes sell for about 30 per cent. less than boxes made of wood.

Choir on a Strike.

The Handel festival now in progress recalls an unusual—probably unique—incident which occurred a few years ago when the whole choir went on strike owing to the Crystal Palace company failing to provide the singers with separate refreshment rooms and other accommodations.

An ultimatum was dispatched on the first day of the festival and on the singers' demands not being acceded to the whole of the choir refused to utter a note when Sir Michael Costa took up his baton. This unheard-of incident lasted for some little time, when the Crystal Palace manager sent word to Sir Michael to request him to announce to the singers that the desired accommodation would be provided immediately. The festival then proceeded in due harmony and there was an end to what is probably the shortest strike on record.—London Opinion.

Slanderous Story.

An elderly woman in the recent suffrage parade in New York became greatly fatigued in the last mile or so of the journey. Turning to one of her marching comrades, she said: "Harriet, I just can't take another step. I'm worn out. If I have to go a block more I'll die." "Don't despair, my dear," was her friend's pious exhortation. "Pray to the Lord for strength. She will help you."—Philadelphia Record.

Two Men Perish

raided the ranch of a Mr. Cliff, murdered Cliff and his manager, Herbert L. Russell, and MacCaghan. The San Juan Taviche ranch, owned by Cliff, is in the northeast part of Durango. No details of the murder were given. Forty federal troopers have been sent in pursuit of the rebels, who were led by Luis Caro, Consul Hamm urges that Ambassador Wilson demand that a larger force of federales be stationed at Durango. A new turn was given to the already serious situation in the south of Mexico by the receipt of news of fresh revolts in that region. It is stated that General Aguilar, the former federal commander, has wiped out a force of 200 federal soldiers at Tehuacan, and that General Felix Diaz has taken up arms against the government in northern Puebla, at a place called Zacapaotla. No official report has been received of the alleged arrest of the two officers of the Ninth cavalry, said to be charged with illegal entry to the house of a Mexican proprietor of a hotel in Douglas.

SAVED BY HIS WIFE.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F. "For a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Nicaraguan Rebels Lose In Last Fight With Federals

Defeated In An Attack on Nicaraguan Government Forces.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Nicaraguan rebels were defeated in an attack on government forces at LaPaz, according to state department advices. Rebels from Leon, under Julian Irias, the exile, who came from Costa Rica to join the revolution, were repulsed by the government forces under General Viquez, though the latter had only 800 men against the 2,000 soldiers in the rebel force. It is stated that the rebels lost heavily in the engagement. They are now being pursued by cavalry of the government forces.

The President "Meets Up" With Marshall

Boston, Oct. 3.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice president, shook hands with President Taft just before the banquet of the supreme council, Scottish Rite Masons, at which both were guests. President Taft joked with Governor Marshall for a few moments on the wear and tear of campaigning and then both passed into the banquet hall.

of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning up the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hessheimer of London, Neb., had been sick over three years, but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strong nerves, good digestion. Only 50 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Sixty Miles An Hour Was Speed Maintained

Ralph DePalma Wins the Vanderbilt Cup Automobile Race.

Wauwatosa, Wis., Oct. 3.—Ralph DePalma, driving a Mercedes car, won the eighth Vanderbilt cup automobile race in 4 hours, 20 minutes and 31.54 seconds for a distance of 259 miles 2,764 feet. This was an average of 69 miles an hour, below Mulford's time at Savannah. The cash prize was $6,500. Hughie Hughes, Mercer, was second.

Diamond Smuggling

New York, Oct. 3.—Many complaints of diamond smuggling across the border from Canada have been coming into the customs house, and Customs Agent Wilson arrested Herman Sagman, a salesman for the firm of Friedlander & Bartowsky of 6 Maiden Lane. Wilson took diamonds worth $2,650 from Sagman. Sagman was bound over to the grand jury.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Worst Mentioned as Successor.

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Quick work will be necessary on the part of the Democratic congressional committee of the Thirteenth district to select a successor to Congressman Carl C. Anderson of Fostoria, candidate for reelection, who was killed in an automobile accident near that city. But a few days remain in which to fill the vacancy. It is said that John R. Worst of Sandusky county, who has been in training to succeed Anderson for some time, will probably be selected for the vacancy.

Sheriff's Profits Cut.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—Acting on the report of the Municipal association, which recently charged that Sheriff Hirsutus makes an annual profit of $8,000 from feeding prisoners, the county commissioners reduced the allowance for feeding jail inmates by terminating Hirsutus' contract for 50 cents per prisoner and substituting one for 45 cents. Hirsutus formerly got 75 cents for feeding each insane prisoner. This amount was also reduced to 45 cents.

Four Hurt In Collision.

Canal Dover, O., Oct. 3.—Two girls and two men were hurt in a collision between a Canal Dover-Urichsville interurban car and a work car, near Goshen. A fog caused the accident. The injured: Frank Hicks, motorman of interurban car, leg crushed; Vora Thomas, 16, of Barnhill, hips broken; Anna Thomas, 25, of Barnhill, leg crushed; Orin Vorhees, conductor of work car, face cut, arm sprained.

Ditches Auto to Save Dog.

Dennison, O., Oct. 3.—In order to avoid running over a dog asleep in the road, Edward Rittenhouse steered his automobile into a ditch between Deersville and Urichsville. The car turned turtle, pinning its occupants underneath. With Ethel Finney, 25, suffered broken arms and internal injuries. Rittenhouse was injured about his legs and spine and his wife was bruised.

Skull Fractured In Fall.

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Etta Miller, 57, wife of Rev. L. W. Miller of Shepard, is at Grant hospital with a fractured skull, sustained when she fell from a car while alighting near the home of her niece, Miss Evelyn G. Miller.

Canton Workmen Strike.

Canton, O., Oct. 3.—About 500 workmen, members of the Industrial Workers of the World, at the plant of the Diebold Safe and Lock company here, are on strike. They demanded recognition of their organization.

Top of Head Sawed Off.

Norwalk, O., Oct. 3.—A. D. Morton, a farmer and justice of the peace of Fitchville township, while handling a log in a mill near there fell on the saw and was instantly killed. The top of his head was sawed off.

Farmer's Machine Overturns.

Bowling Green, O., Oct. 3.—Delasus Mercer, 63, a retired farmer, was killed two miles south of this city when his automobile overturned. He made too wide a turn in passing a buggy while going rapidly.

Died at Telephone.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 3.—A telephone message that he was about to be arrested charged with operating a handbook so frightened Joseph Schickling, 52, here that he dropped dead at the telephone.

Heney Coming to Ohio.

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Francis J. Heney, San Francisco graft prosecutor, will be sent into Ohio Oct. 8 by the Bull Moose national committee. Heney has asked to be billed for Toledo that night.

SAVES LEG OF BOY.

"It seemed that my 14-year old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Mayor Crushed Under Automobile.

Tippecanoe City, O., Oct. 3.—L. T. Sheets, twice mayor of Tippecanoe City, was killed in an automobile accident near Vandalia, and his companion, Miss Ethel Hartman, was badly bruised. The two were returning from an opera at Dayton, when the automobile struck a rut and overturned.

Squirrel Hunter Killed.

Lancaster, O., Oct. 3.—Noah Smith, 30, married, was fatally injured while hunting squirrels in the woods near here. James Hoover, a neighbor, and his companion on the hunting expedition, took Smith's gray cap for a squirrel and shot through the bushes.

Ettor Trial Halted.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 3.—The Ettor trial has been halted until Oct. 14 and the sheriff has been ordered to summon 350 new talesmen. The first venire was exhausted except five men when the court adjourned, and but two jurors were selected, making a total of four. The court will hear arguments Monday on a motion to admit defendants to bail.

GREW HAIR IN SIX WEEKS.

"Mary, have you read what Baroness Ramsey says about Mrs. Mason's Hair Treatment? In her letter which I saw she declares that it produced a considerable growth of hair in only six weeks."

"Yes, Grace, and lots of our best people here in Washington C. H. used to send to New York for Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream before Blackmer & Tanquary our local druggists took the agency for it."

"I am using it myself now, it is so easy to wash one's own hair with it and you know it produces a stimulating and luxurious lather which not only removes the dust, dirt, grit and dandruff from the hair and scalp, but at the same time you are rubbing the tonic properties of this famous herb shampoo into the roots of the hair, which stops it coming out and stimulates the growth—just as water does a plant. It makes the hair so beautifully clean, soft and fluffy that it looks twice as thick as it really is. A 25c. tube is sufficient for three or four shampoos and they offer to return your money if you don't like it."

Thoughtful John Chinaman.

"The virtues of a Chinese laundryman never have been half told," said the woman. "Not of my laundryman, anyhow. He is such a motherly old soul. The other day he brought my handkerchiefs home folded in two different ways, some squared, some cat-cornered."

"Why the different styles in ironing?" I asked.

"John pointed to the stack of cat-cornered handkerchiefs. 'These holey,' he said. Then to the square pile, 'These good. In big hully, not gettes mix and go out with holey hankchee.' 'Kind old John. His idea was all right, but doesn't keep me from getting mixed, for I can never remember which shape means holey and which means whole, so I am likely to disgrace myself with a holey handkerchief after all."

Patrolman Has Struggle With Muscular Gunman

Excitement at Show Grounds Last Night When Patrolman Cogswell and Deputy Arrest Man Who Carried Big Gun and Who Later Makes Escapes After Hard Struggle.

A great deal of excitement was created at the Smith Greater Shows on the old fair grounds about ten o'clock Wednesday night, when Patrolman Cogswell arrested a man named Bowens who had been carrying a big gun around and is alleged to have been drinking. However, the man was not taken but a short distance when he jerked loose from Cogswell and a deputy, and darted down an alley, making his escape. The trouble occurred near the merry-go-round when Cogswell ordered the man to remove the gun from his person, and after his refusal to do so, it was taken in charge by the officer. This is said to have aroused Bowens and when Patrolman Cogswell attempted to take him to the lock-up the man held to one of the tent ropes until a rap over the hand with the officer's club caused him to release his hold and seize the mace, and a tussel ensued, during which Cogswell deputized Cliff Harris to assist him.

The two men succeeded in forcing Bowens, who was a veritable giant in strength, off of the show grounds

TO MAKE TABLE CLOTHS LAST.

Table linen is expensive. It costs more today than it did five years ago. When it begins to wear in holes, to come from the wash with worn spots that tell how soon it will be no good, no wonder the housewife despairs. Cheap, common soap full of caustic that eat the linen are greatly to blame. Easy Task laundry soap is an enemy to dirt and stains and a friend to the table linen. Get two five cent cakes; try it, and if it does not surprise and satisfy you the makers will return your money.

Engineer Has Very Close Call

B. & O. Engineer Ed O'Brien, who runs a freight engine on the local branch of the B. & O. S. W., nearly met death while in Columbus this week, when he fell from his engine to the ground, sustaining painful although not serious injuries. O'Brien was standing on the running board of his engine when in some way he lost his balance and fell backward, alighting on his head and shoulder on the ground below, narrowly missing a tie. He was unable to continue his work and was sent to his home in Chillicothe.

Neighbor Loses Nine Saloons

There are twenty-three saloons in Pickaway county at the present time, and under the liquor license amendment nine of the twenty-three will be compelled to close their doors, although it is not yet known which of the saloons must go.

Under the law as amended, only one saloon to each 500 population, can exist, and in the city of Cleveland where there are now 2200 saloons, the number will be reduced to 1300, or a drop of 900, and in other Ohio cities the decrease will be correspondingly heavy.

BROKEN ENGINE ENDANGERS LIVES OF MANY PASSENGERS

Timely Discovery of Break on Royal Blue Flyer Engine Prevents Wreck in Which Many Lives Would Have Been Lost.

What might easily have terminated in a fearful wreck on the B. & O. was prevented Thursday morning by the timely discovery that a cap holding one of the sets of side bars in place was missing. The cap had evidently dropped off west of town somewhere, and the discovery was made when the train stopped at the station here.

As there was nothing to hold the rods in place, a disastrous wreck undoubtedly would have taken place east of this city, probably while the train was going full speed, as the loosening of the bars would have caused the engine to strip itself almost instantly, and when the passengers realized what a narrow escape they had from being in a horrible smash-up, there was more than one grave face in the bunch, for the lives of some two hundred passengers had been endangered.

The disabled engine was left

here and the yard engine pulled the train into Columbus.

DEATHS

STEVENS.

Elizabeth Hays Stevens, aged 69 years, died at the residence of her sister, Oliver Storer, on the Greenfield pike, Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The remains will be shipped to Williamsburg on the 8:32 B. & O. train Friday morning.

NON-PARTISAN BALLOT LAW IS HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

Candidates for the Various Judicial Offices Throughout the State Know Now Where They Are "Hitched."

DECISION THIS MORNING COURT WAS DIVIDED

Local Candidates Who Have Been Going Along on "Low Speed" Waiting for the Court Ruling Are Now Going It "On High" With Non-skid Tires.

The Supreme Court at Columbus Thursday morning handed down its decision in the case involving the constitutionality of the Green non-partisan judicial act. That law requires that all candidates for judicial offices shall run on separate ballot without any party designations at all and upon which the names of all candidates are printed in one column. On the judicial ballot all party emblems and party designation are forbidden and as many candidates may run as secure petitions according to law.

No party nomination is required.

The local candidates for Probate Judge—four Republicans and one Democrat—have been waiting anxiously for the decision of the court in order to know just where they "were at" and what kind of a campaign to conduct.

Two of the candidates have secured party nominations—Judge A. C. Patton having been nominated in the Republican primaries and A. J. Kearney in the Democratic primary. The other candidates, Rell G. Allen, Judge T. N. Craig and Jerome

Congressman Post Chosen by Speaker To Attend Funeral Of C. C. Anderson

Hon. J. D. Post, of this city, received a telegram Thursday morning notifying him that Speaker Champ Clark of the National House of Representatives had appointed him as a member of the committee to attend the funeral of Representative Carl C. Anderson, whose tragic death in an automobile smash up Tuesday night, shocked the entire nation. The funeral services will be held and will be largely attended by men of note on Friday at 1:00 p. m. at Fostoria, Ohio. Mr. Post and Representative Anderson were close personal and political friends and both were men especially interested in and active for all proposed measures affecting the interests of the old soldiers.

Mr. Post left at 4:30 Thursday afternoon for Fostoria.

B. & O. Wreck Engineer Dead

A head-on collision occurred in the B. & O. yards at Athens Wednesday night, when the yard engine and a double-header freight came together while going at rapid speed.

The engineer on the yard engine was instantly killed and his fireman and a brakeman were also seriously injured if not fatally injured. The other train crew escaped unhurt.

Patrolman Has Struggle With Muscular Gunman

Excitement at Show Grounds Last Night When Patrolman Cogswell and Deputy Arrest Man Who Carried Big Gun and Who Later Makes Escapes After Hard Struggle.

A great deal of excitement was created at the Smith Greater Shows on the old fair grounds about ten o'clock Wednesday night, when Patrolman Cogswell arrested a man named Bowens who had been carrying a big gun around and is alleged to have been drinking. However, the man was not taken but a short distance when he jerked loose from Cogswell and a deputy, and darted down an alley, making his escape. The trouble occurred near the merry-go-round when Cogswell ordered the man to remove the gun from his person, and after his refusal to do so, it was taken in charge by the officer. This is said to have aroused Bowens and when Patrolman Cogswell attempted to take him to the lock-up the man held to one of the tent ropes until a rap over the hand with the officer's club caused him to release his hold and seize the mace, and a tussel ensued, during which Cogswell deputized Chief Harris to assist him. The two men succeeded in forcing Bowens, who was a veritable giant in strength, off of the show grounds

TO MAKE TABLE CLOTHS LAST.

Table linen is expensive. It costs more today than it did five years ago. When it begins to wear in holes, to come from the wash with worn spots that tell how soon it will be no good, no wonder the housewife despairs. Cheap, common soap full of caustic that eat the linen are greatly to blame. Easy Task laundry soap is an enemy to dirt and stains and a friend to the table linen. Get two five cent cakes; try it, and if it does not surprise and satisfy you the makers will return your money.

Engineer and Very Close Call

B. & O. Engineer Ed O'Brien, who runs a freight engine on the local branch of the B. & O. S. W., nearly met death while in Columbus this week, when he fell from his engine to the ground, sustaining painful although not serious injuries. O'Brien was standing on the running board of his engine when in some way he lost his balance and fell backward, alighting on his head and shoulder on the ground below, narrowly missing a tie. He was unable to continue his work and was sent to his home in Chillicothe.

There are twenty-three saloons in Pickaway county at the present time, and under the liquor license amendment nine of the twenty-three will be compelled to close their doors, although it is not yet known which of the saloons must go.

Under the law as amended, only one saloon to each 500 population, can exist, and in the city of Cleveland where there are now 2200 saloons, the number will be reduced to 1300, or a drop of 900, and in other Ohio cities the decrease will be correspondingly heavy.

BROKEN ENGINE ENDANGERS LIVES OF MANY PASSENGERS

Timely Discovery of Break on Royal Blue Flyer Engine Prevents Wreck in Which Many Lives Would Have Been Lost.

What might easily have terminated in a fearful wreck on the B. & O. was prevented Thursday morning by the timely discovery that a cap holding one of the sets of side bars in place was missing. The cap had evidently dropped off west of town somewhere, and the discovery was made when the train stopped at the station here.

As there was nothing to hold the rods in place, a disastrous wreck undoubtedly would have taken place east of this city, probably while the train was going full speed, as the loosening of the bars would have caused the engine to strip itself almost instantly, and when the passengers realized what a narrow escape they had from being in a horrible smash-up, there was more than one grave face in the bunch, for the lives of some two hundred passengers had been endangered. The disabled engine was left here and the yard engine pulled the train into Columbus.

NON-PARTISAN BALLOT LAW IS HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

Candidates for the Various Judicial Offices Throughout the State Know Now Where They Are "Hitched."

DECISION THIS MORNING COURT WAS DIVIDED

Local Candidates Who Have Been Going Along on "Low Speed" Waiting for the Court Ruling Are Now Going It "On High" With Non-skid Tires.

The Supreme Court at Columbus Thursday morning handed down its decision in the case involving the constitutionality of the Green non-partisan judicial act. That law requires that all candidates for judicial offices shall run on separate ballot without any party designations at all and upon which the names of all candidates are printed in one column. On the judicial ballot all party emblems and party designation are forbidden and as many candidates may run as secure petitions according to law.

No party nomination is required.

The local candidates for Probate Judge—four Republicans and one Democrat—have been waiting anxiously for the decision of the court in order to know just where they "were at" and what kind of a campaign to conduct.

Two of the candidates have secured party nominations—Judge A. C. Patton having been nominated in the Republican primaries and A. J. Kearney in the Democratic primary. The other candidates, Reil G. Allen, Judge T. N. Craig and Jerome

John T. Oatneal Is Appointed To Federal Job

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClure entertained four tables of cards last night to announce the engagement of Miss Margaret McClure to Dr. Howard L. Stitt.

The announcement is one fraught with marked interest throughout a widely extended circle. Miss McClure, the daughter of Mr. R. D. McClure, is not only a girl of unusual charm, but her wonderful endowment of musical talent has given her prestige far beyond the ordinary and it is most welcome news that her marriage will insure her remaining in Washington's musical and social circles.

Dr. Stitt, the son of Mr. J. Y. Stitt, of Bloomingburg, graduated from the Cincinnati College of Medicine two years ago and, after a year's practice as hospital interne, began the practice of his profession in this city. His success, as a young physician has been phenomenal and disproves the proverb that "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

Owing to the fact that Miss McClure's parents go to their future home in Peebles soon the marriage has been arranged to take place on October the 21st, and will be a home wedding, confined chiefly to the family.

The announcement party also celebrated the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClure and was an affair of exceptional elaborateness and beauty.

In the parlor and library pink and white roses, carnations and greenery were in graceful profusion and in the dining room white and pink snap dragons and smilax were employed.

An elaborate course supper followed the card game. The guests were seated at a long table, as beautifully decorated as a bridal table. An immense basket of pink and white snap dragons, the handles tied with gauze ribbons, was banked with smilax in the center, the smilax trailing to the ends of the table and entwining crystal candlesticks, in which burned pink candles beneath pink flower shades.

At each plate was a corsage bouquet of pink rose buds, snap dragons and fern, and underneath these bouquets were cards bearing the announcement.

The place cards were pretty, hand-painted painted in roses.

The announcement was followed with a storm of congratulations and informal toasting.

The bride to be was looking exceedingly handsome in an evening gown of pale pink silk net over tulle, with trimmings of pale blue satin bands and chiffon ruchings.

In effective contrast to her decided brunette type was the fair hostess, looking very lovely in a draped gown entraine, of turquoise blue silk marquisette, trimmed in points and shadow lace.

Assisting were Mrs. R. D. McClure in white and Miss Eva McClure in golden brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Mechlin, of Columbus, and Mr. Carl Johnson, of Waverly, were guests from a distance.

To announce the engagement of Miss Ruth Fults, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fults, and Mr. Arthur Miller, Miss Mabel Calvert gave a beautiful little engagement party yesterday afternoon.

The handsome Calvert home lent itself perfectly to decorations of white carnations and greenery and made ideal setting for the coterie of attractive girls assembled.

The bride elect was the cynosure of the group and very pretty she looked in a smart gown of King's blue silk poplin, trimmed in white satin and lace, the bodice having the new Robespierre collar.

Miss Calvert, was charming in white linen and Irish crochet.

Miss Ethel Calvert assisted in white.

The announcement was made in telegrams received by each guest from Cupid.

The guests were the girls of the Theta Sigma Phi sorority, including Mrs. Florence Hoffman Hays, Misses Fults, Ruth Perrill, Louise Weaver, Fanny Dahl, Louise Ballard, Mina Rowe, Calvert, Mrs. Alden Bush.

The marriage takes place this month. Mr. Miller has been engaged in farming with his brother on the Bogus road, but expects to make his future home in town.

Both young people have a host of friends who will voice heartfelt congratulations.

Mrs. Carey Howland and Miss Clara Zimmerman, most delightfully entertained the girls of Mrs. A. F. Hopkins' Sunday school class last evening.

The Howland home presented an autumn picture embowered in golden rod, bitter sweet and asparagus fern, the red and gold vividly effective.

The affair proved a combination of musical and Kensington.

A charming program of vocal, piano and violin music was given. Miss Wilson, Miss Lois Bean, of Hillsboro; Miss Inez Rodgers contributed beautiful ballads; Miss Goldie Baughn, piano, and Miss Mazie Kessler and Mr. Carey Howland violin solos.

There was also an original grain guessing contest, conceived by Miss Zimmerman.

Miss Goldie Baughn won a pumpkin as first prize and Miss Grace McHenry an onion as consolation.

The class presented Miss Lou Patton, a bride of next week, with a pretty book in which each member wrote good wishes. Miss Patton has been a loyal member of the class and there is sincere regret over her departure to a new home.

Miss Grace Glen, of Jackson, and Miss Lois Bean, of Hillsboro, were out-of-town guests.

KENSINGTON.

The members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will entertain with a Kensington at the home of Mrs. Josephine Kerr Friday afternoon, October 11th, at 2:30 o'clock. All the ladies of the church and their friends are cordially invited.

Mr. John T. Oatneal, one of the leading colored citizens of this section of the state, a prominent Republican worker and campaign speaker of recognized ability, received notice some days ago from Hon. H. M. Daugherty, chairman of the Republican State Executive committee that he had been appointed to a position in the Bureau of Pensions.

Mr. Oatneal's commission from the department arrived this morning and along with it came a notification to report for duty as soon as possible. That the position is one of importance is proven by the salary paid—$1000 per year.

Mr. Oatneal is intending to go on to Washington in a short time and assume the position tendered him, and is busy arranging his private affairs with that purpose in view.

Mr. Oatneal's efficiency as a party worker has long been recognized by the prominent place accorded him in the organization, his ability as a public speaker has been acknowledged by assignment at the hands of the State committee and the present appointment comes as a deserved reward for his services and a recognition of his loyalty to the party.

Mr. Oatneal is busy receiving congratulations of his many friends.

THOMAS HOOD'S OVERSIGHT.

Thomas Hood gave to literature the undying "Song of the Shirt", but he might have written an even sadder song, that of the washtub. Easy Task laundry soap was unknown in his day. It is only for the last quarter century that it has been relieving women of backaches and bruised hands. It takes the dirt out of or off anything—actually does most of the work itself. Your grocer has it.

German Cures.

In Germany one finds all kinds of cures. Every enterprising town has one. Often the cure house is the finest public building in the city. A German talks of going to his cure as an American of going to his vacation. There are milk cures and mud cures, wind cures and water cures, mountain cures and surf cures; but my choice is the forest cure.

Not only does it best please my personal taste but I notice that it gets the most serious cases—those where radical and heroic cures are needed. First of all there are the tuberculosis patients strewn about on their cots under the pungent shades of the Black Forest as about Dr. Trudeau's camp in the Adirondacks.

Then there are the devotees of indigestion and the nervous wrecks, bilious, alcoholic and society wrecks, drug fiends, bridge fiends and everybody; that is everybody who can spend the time and money to come hither for the forest cure. Naturally in Germany, as in America, folks who have to work and support families cannot afford to be cured. They can't even afford the disease in the first place.—Woman's Home Companion.

Annoying Honesty.

Having vouched for the honesty of the woman who wished a situation as scrubwoman, the good-natured man was subjected to a severe examination by the superintendent of the building.

"There are degrees of honesty," said the superintendent. "How honest is she?"

The good-natured man reflected. "Well," he said, "I'll tell you. She is so honest that if you throw anything that looks to be worth a copper into the waste paper basket you have to tag it 'Destroy this' or she will fish it out and put it back on your desk night after night, no matter how badly you want to get rid of it. I don't know that I can say anything more." "Nothing more is necessary," said the superintendent, and he hired the woman at once.

City Vs. Country.

"I'm glad spring's coming, so I can live out in the country again," remarked a man on the car. "Now I'll get a chance to read the papers and magazines again and know what's going on in the world. I feel ashamed of myself for being as poorly informed as I am."

"But I should think you'd have less time than ever at home," suggested the other man. "You'll have to leave home earlier to get to your office in time."

"Yes, that's just it," said the first one. "I'll spend more time on the cars then. That's why the people who live at the end of the car line are usually better informed than those who live only half-way.—New York Times.

Casting the Floating Fly.

It should go without saying that properly and effectively to cast and fish the floating fly it is essential that the tackle be correctly assembled. In this regard I believe the point most in need of emphasis is the question of the right way to fit the reel to the rod, says Samuel G. Camp in Outing; that this should be done so that the reel is underneath the rod with its handle to the right (in the case of the right handed caster) is in my experience the only satisfactory and thoroughly efficient way. With the reel thus placed it is never necessary, when playing a fish, to turn the rod over so that the reel is above, as in the case when the reel is fitted to the rod with the handle to the left. After a fish is struck if it becomes necessary to use the reel the rod is simply shifted to the left hand—without the awkward necessity of turning it over to bring the reel on top—and the fingers of the right hand fall naturally upon the handle of the reel.

Very Pleasant, Indeed.

Mo. T. Oatneal Is Appointed To Federal Job

Mr. John T. Oatneal, one of the leading colored citizens of this section of the state, a prominent Republican worker and campaign speaker of recognized ability, received notice some days ago from Hon. H. M. Daugherty, chairman of the Republican State Executive committee that he had been appointed to a position in the Bureau of Pensions.

Mr. Oatneal's commission from the department arrived this morning and along with it came a notification to report for duty as soon as possible. That the position is one of importance is proven by the salary paid—$1000 per year.

Mr. Oatneal is intending to go on to Washington in a short time and assume the position tendered him, and is busy arranging his private affairs with that purpose in view.

Mr. Oatneal's efficiency as a party worker has long been recognized by the prominent place accorded him in the organization, his ability as a public speaker has been acknowledged by assignment at the hands of the State committee and the present appointment comes as a deserved reward for his services and a recognition of his loyalty to the party.

Mr. Oatneal is busy receiving congratulations of his many friends.

THOMAS HOOD'S OVERSIGHT.

Thomas Hood gave to literature the undying "Song of the Shirt", but he might have written an even sadder song, that of the washtub. Easy Task laundry soap was unknown in his day. It is only for the last quarter century that it has been relieving women of backaches and bruised hands. It takes the dirt out of or off anything—actually does most of the work itself. Your grocer has it.

German Cures.

In Germany one finds all kinds of cures. Every enterprising town has one. Often the cure house is the finest public building in the city. A German talks of going to his vacation. There are milk cures and mud cures, wind cures and water cures, mountain cures and surf cures; but my choice is the forest cure.

Not only does it best please my personal taste but I notice that it gets the most serious cases—those where radical and heroic cures are needed. First of all there are the tuberculosis patients strewn about on their cots under the pungent shades of the Black Forest as about Dr. Trudeau's camp in the Adirondacks.

Then there are the devotees of indigestion and the nervous wrecks, bilious, alcoholic and society wrecks, drug fiends, bridge fiends and everybody; that is everybody who can spend the time and money to come hither for the forest cure. Naturally in Germany, as in America, folks who have to work and support families cannot afford to be cured. They can't even afford the disease in the first place—Woman's Home Companion.

Annoying Honesty.

Having vouched for the honesty of the woman who wished a situation as scrubwoman, the good-natured man was subjected to a severe examination by the superintendent of the building.

"There are degrees of honesty," said the superintendent. "How honest is she?"

The good-natured man reflected. "Well," he said, "I'll tell you. She is so honest that if you throw anything that looks to be worth a copper into the waste paper basket you have to tag it 'Destroy this' or she will fish it out and put it back on your desk night after night, no matter how badly you want to get rid of it. I don't know that I can say anything more." "Nothing more is necessary," said the superintendent, and he hired the woman at once.

City Vs. Country.

"I'm glad spring's coming, so I can live out in the country again," remarked a man on the car. "Now I'll get a chance to read the papers and magazines again and know what's going on in the world. I feel ashamed of myself for being as poorly informed as I am."

"But I should think you'd have less time than ever at home," suggested the other man. "You'll have to leave home earlier to get to your office in time."

"Yes, that's just it," said the first one. "I'll spend more time on the cars then. That's why the people who live at the end of the car line are usually better informed than those who live only half-way.—New York Times.

Casting the Floating Fly.

It should go without saying that properly and effectively to cast and fish the floating fly it is essential that the tackle be correctly assembled. In this regard I believe the point most in need of emphasis is the question of the right way to fit the reel to the rod, says Samuel G. Camp in Outing; that this should be done so that the reel is underneath the rod with its handle to the right (in the case of the right handed caster) is in my experience the only satisfactory and thoroughly efficient way. With the reel thus placed it is never necessary, when playing a fish, to turn the rod over so that the reel is above, as in the case when the reel is fitted to the rod with the handle to the left. After a fish is struck if it becomes necessary to use the reel the rod is simply shifted to the left hand—without the awkward necessity of turning it over to bring the reel on top—and the fingers of the right hand fall naturally upon the handle of the reel.

Very Pleasant, Indeed.

WORLD'S GREATEST NESTING PLACE OF THE MULTI- MILLIONAIRES

Mackay Mansion at Roslyn.

NEW YORK.—The greatest, most luxurious and complete development of country life that is to be found in America is on Long Island. One part of Long Island particularly surpasses all the rest in the number and magnificence of its great estates. This is the northern half of Nassau county. The region which extends from Great Neck to Cold Spring Harbor and from the sound south nearly to the main line of the Long Island railroad contains greater wealth than any portion of the earth's surface of a similar size outside of a town or city. It is within 30 or 40 minutes of Manhattan by rail. In a well-driven motor car one may pass from one boundary to the other of this section, north or south or east or west, in from 30 to 25 minutes. In this neighborhood more than 200 persons of great wealth have given an expression of their accumulated riches in the largest number of beautiful country estates in America. All this has come about within the last 25 or 30 years.

This part of Long Island is of great natural beauty. It has the highest hills, some rising more than 400 feet above the sea. There are several splendid deep water havens without rocks, reefs or shoals, where the largest of steam yachts may lie at anchor. Hempstead, Oyster Bay and Cold Spring Harbors have been famous since the days of the Indians. The anchorage of the New York Yacht club, in the East river, can be reached from them easily by steam yachts or power boats in from an hour to an hour and a quarter. This region has the greatest mileage of stone roads of any section of equal area in the United States. These country highways have lost nothing of their rustic beauty by being macadamized, and motoring over them is a delight. They are so smooth that the hilly nature of the country offers no impediment to the autoist's enjoyment. In this section also are found the finest trees and the richest soil. A greater variety of plants and trees can be raised to perfection there than anywhere else in America. It is no wonder, therefore, that not only the very rich have selected this region for their country homes or that those who are only fairly well-to-do have been quick to see its advantages and build their houses there. The developers of suburban real estate also have found this one of their most attractive fields.

Select Club Land.

This section, too, is where club life reaches perfection. There are clubs for land sports and clubs for water sports. The Meadow Brook Hunt club is one of the most famous of the former. This is the finest fox-hunting region in America. The Nassau Country club and half a dozen golf clubs cover many acres and afford all the enjoyments of out-of-door life. The Piping Rock Country club is the largest and newest of all, and probably is the most magnificently appointed organization of its kind in the Western Hemisphere. In addition to these there are fishing clubs, gun clubs, automobile clubs—in fact, a man may find there almost any kind of club for outdoor sports that he can think of. The horse shows that are held in the open air every autumn attract a larger attendance from the society folk than the annual event in Madison Square garden.

This part of Long Island is, more than any other region of the United States, like rural England. There are sleepy old villages that look out upon green, undulating swards like those of Kent or Devonshire. The houses on the country estates of America's most famous millionaires stand out like white dots on the slopes of green. The towers and turrets of others loom up clear cut against the horizon. The clustered estates practically touch elbows and cover less territory than an ordinary Texas ranch. It is like baronial Europe, only the castles are nearer together.

Perfect Country Houses.

Some of these country houses—many of them, in fact—are veritable palaces. Broad avenues overarched by splendid trees lead up to them. Flower-bordered walks give brilliant touches of color to the view. All about are English hedges, with well-trimmed boxes, globes and arches of privet and arbutus. There are parks and pleasure grounds, peacocks and balustrades. The scene has none of the gorgeous theatrical setting of Newport. Its beauty is natural and artistic. Fabulous sums have been expended in this region in improving upon nature. Great as the wealth is that is represented, it does not obtrude itself unpleasantly. The casual visitor receives the impression that the people who own and dwell in the palaces have learned not only how to amass riches, but to live.

A good many of the wealthy folk who inhabit this beautiful region are of the second or third generation of millionaires. They have none of the trials or worries of money getting. They are concerned more with the enjoyment of life under sunny skies, with every accessory that money can buy. But there are many others who are still busy heaping up their great fortunes still higher. These folk find the same relaxation and rest on their country estates at night and week-ends that the small business man does who lives in sight of them in his cottage.

The season of the greatest social activity in this widespread colony of millionaires is the autumn, but many of the owners of the great estates open their houses in April and stay there much of the time until after Thanksgiving. Some spend a few weeks in Europe during the summer, but by early in September there is hardly a house whose family is away. They are all very neighborly. The automobile has moved other splendid places of residence on Long Island close up to this one. It is only an hour or so's motoring from one fine section to another on the south shore or out toward the eastern end of the island. Nothing is thought of riding 50 miles of an afternoon or evening for a game of bridge or for a dance. Of late years the automobile has become as much a necessity as the horse used to be. Some of these rich residents on Long Island have a dozen motor cars constantly in commission, and a few have as many as 25 or 30. One man is said to own 50. A good many of the dwellers in the Nassau county district travel back and forth by automobile from their homes to business. Others whose homes are near the Sound, make the trip during the summer months by yacht.

Founded by A. T. Stewart.

The nucleus of this colony of millionaires was near Westbury and dates from the founding of the Meadow Brook club in 1881. As far back as 1856 A. T. Stewart bought 9,000 acres of land near Garden City. At that time his purchase was regarded as the height of a rich man's folly and the farmers were glad to sell their possessions at from $40 to $60 an acre. Later when the Meadow Brook club became popular, land began to rise, slowly at first, but subsequently with vertiginous rapidity. The original settlers—Quakers for the most part—were slow to sell, but little by little they parted with their homestead farms which were combined and laid out in vast estates for the enjoyment of those who built the palaces that replaced the low-roofed rambling houses. Today $10,000 an acre is asked for many desirable tracts of land in this region. This is especially the case where the land has been allowed to retain all its natural beauty and where the groves of great trees have remained untouched by the ax.

Much Owed to Pratt.

Charles Pratt, the Standard Oil millionaire who died ten or fifteen years ago, probably did more than any one else to make popular this splendid region in northern Nassau county. Some twenty-five or thirty years ago he bought a large estate at Glen Cove and spent a great deal of time and money in beautifying and adding to it. He was the first really large buyer of land in this region. Later some other rich men, appreciative of the delights of country life, on Long Island, bought other hundreds of acres. Year after year the colony of congenial people of wealth increased, but it received its greatest impetus and has had its largest growth since the motor car became practicable as a means of sure and swift locomotion. Indeed, the automobile is the principal thing that has made this millionaires' colony possible and has placed it within easy reach of similar communities in other parts of the island. The Pratt estate is still one of the show places of that part of Long Island. The six sons of Charles Pratt have built six magnificent country houses on the great property that their father bought and have still further developed its beauties. Among the finest places in this region are Henry Davison's, at Peacock Point, Glen Cove; Howard Gould's, Harvey Ladew's, H. Bramhall Gilbert's and Dr. Satterwhite's, all at Great Neck; Colgate Hoyt's, on Center island; E. D. Morgan's, in the Wheatley hills, and the estates of James Byrne, W. D. Guthrie, W. J. Matheson, Clarence Mackay and J. P. Morgan, Jr.

The Mackay place, at Roslyn, is typical of what wealth and taste have accomplished in this neighborhood. It is more than 600 acres in extent. The mansion is on the top of a wooded hill, 230 feet above the level of the road where it passes the lodge gates. On clear days ships on the ocean can be seen from there, and the nearer, daily panorama of Long Island sound. The big buildings in Manhattan are within view, and at night the lights of Broadway are visible from the housetop. There are ten miles of driveways and four miles of foot-paths. The management of the place is as carefully organized as any big business enterprise. There are a number of different departments, each with its head, all under the supervision of a general manager, who reports direct to the owner. An expert accountant comes quarterly and audits the books.

Men of Prominence.

FATHER'S QUOT HIT CHILD

Four-Year-Old Effie Griffith Runs Toward Her Parent as He Pitches and Is Dying.

Washington, Pa.—Four-year-old Effie Griffith is dying in a hospital at Wellsburg, W. Va., over the state line from Independence, Washington county, from injuries received when she was struck in the face by a quoit pitched by her father in a game. The accident occurred at the Bellevue camp-meeting grounds at Independence.

Little Effie was watching her father, D. B. Griffith, and several other men pitching, a number of children being some distance from the court. The child approached the danger line, unseen by any of the contestants, who were excited over the close match. Just as Griffith pitched the heavy quoit the little girl darted toward him with a cry of "Papa!" on her lips.

The horrified parent stood petrified and saw the heavy quoit crash into his child's face, hurling her several feet and rendering her unconscious. When picked up she was apparently dead. Her nose and adjacent bones in the face and cheek were shattered and her skull fractured. She was rushed to the hospital and four physicians were summoned from here and Wheeling by the wealthy father. The child, however, has little chance for recovery.

Luckless Age, This.

"No'm," said Aunt Phemie with conviction, "times ain't as lucky as what dey used to be."

"How do you account for it?" asked her mistress.

"Well'm, the way I figures it, dese automobiles is most to blame." "Automobiles? What have they got to do with it?" "Well'm, horseshoes has always been good luck, ain't dey? And four leaf clovers is good luck, ain't dey? Automobiles has drove de horseshoes out o' business—consequently, dey ain't as many horseshoes lyin' around with luck on 'em, and farmers ain't raisin' as much clover as dey used to. Why, I had to send to the country to get a horseshoe to nail over my bed-room do'."

MAIN CITY OF CEYLON

COLOMBO ALWAYS INTERESTING TO THE TRAVELER.

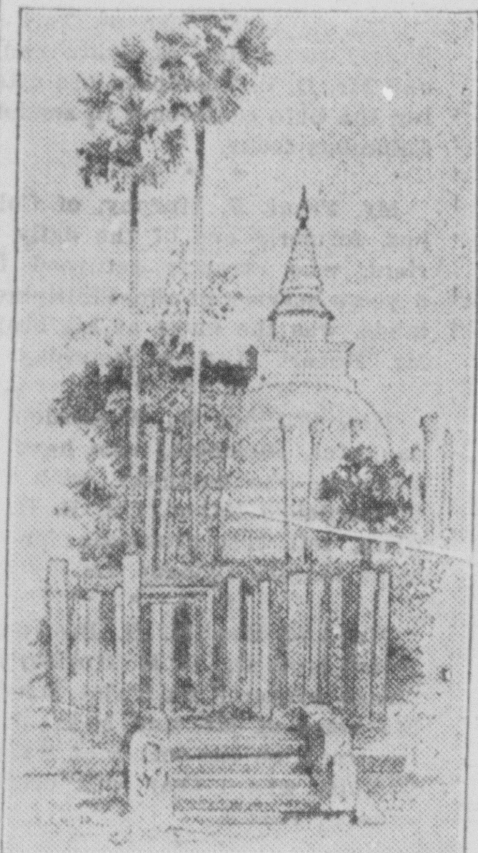

Its Origin Goes Back Beyond the Pages of History and Has Record in Writings of the Earliest Geographer.

Colombo, Ceylon.—Apart from its importance as the chief city of Ceylon, Colombo, in consequence of its selection as port of call on the Australian route, has a special significance. To so many English eyes it is the first glimpse of tropical luxuriance, and, however much a man may afterward explore Equatorial regions, it still remains in his recollection as essentially typical of the Tropics.

One day early in November I had my first view of Colombo, and beheld the low promontory which Ptolemy the geographer marked on his map in the second century A. D. as "Jovis Extremum." I thought on this, by first day in Colombo, as I stood in the streets—streets as busy as Cheapside at one o'clock—that it might well be called "The City of the Silent Feet," for the fact that nearly everyone goes barefoot lessens enormously the amount of noise. The heat and the extreme humidity at first press hard upon the stranger, and a baffling envelope of lassitude seemed trying all the while to clog and hamper every movement of body or of limb.

Two-wheeled bullock-carts innumerable passed along at a leisurely pace, many of them loaded with tea-chests and some with plantains or other fruit. The bullocks were little creatures for the most part, sometimes black and sometimes fawn or a reddish brown, and the wooden yokes that lay across their necks were heavily fashioned. A thatch of palm-leaves protected the goods from rain and sun. In the main thoroughfares tramways echoed the modernity of shops and office buildings, but the old order jostled with the new. A herd of water buffaloes obstructed the tram-lines; on the steps of the pretentious general postoffice native letter-writers, under wide umbrellas, scribbled missives for their clients, and at every street corner squatted the sellers of betel, generally women.

shrined, of the vast mass of the Ruwanweli and the four statues recently discovered among its ruins of the great Abhiyaya-Giri, the Jetavanarama, or the Lankarama. They and the scattered ruins in the depths of the forest show still the extent of the buildings of that sacred city beside which ancient Rome and Byzantium were but pigmy towns.

BEAR IS UNINVITED GUEST

Enters Sleeping Room, Whose Occupant Vacates Instantly Without Waiting to Dress.

Hood River, Ore.—The citizens of the Oak Grove district, armed with the family weapons and followed by all of the dogs that qualified for the event, are passing the time in a bear hunt. A big brown bruin came down out of the Green Point hills a few days ago, raided a raspberry patch at the ranch of Esquire C. C. Lemmon, destroyed the apron of another rancher and entered the kitchen of the Apple-dee.

Robert Shinn, a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college, who is caring for the Appledee tract, keeps bachelor's hall there. His slumbers of the early dawn were disturbed by the noise of the bear raiding the culinary department.

In a few seconds the bear had entered his sleeping apartment. Shinn left hurriedly through an open window by his bed. The flapping of his night shirt waving an adieu so suddenly in the cool morning breeze frightened the bear, which turned over a cupboard of jams and canned fruits in its hasty exit through the pantry.

The bear is said to be one of the largest ever seen in this region, and the ranchers fear that unless it is killed it will begin to raid barnyards.

Beals Becker, who has long been a utility outfielder for the Giants, has been holding down a regular berth in the New York outfield for some time past. Beals is a timely batsman and it was his good stick work that led him to be played regularly by Manager McGraw. Becker was secured by New York from the Boston Nation-

Pirates and Senators Play.

A series of contests may be arranged between the Pirates and the Washington Americans. President Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburg received a challenge from Clark Griffith, manager of the Senators, for a post-season series with the Pirates. He has not yet replied, but has taken the matter up with Manager Fred Clarke, who states that he and his men are willing to play, if it can be shown that the series will be a paying one.

The Pirates have a better first baseman this season than they have had in years. Jack Miller, who formerly looked after the Keystone sack for the Pirates, was moved over to first and has done so well that he has been made a permanent fixture there. First base has long been a weak spot in the Pittsburgh line-up. Manager Fred Clarke figures that more than one pennant was lost to the Smoky City through weakness at the initial sack. The Pirates have been playing better ball lately than they did in the fore part of the season, and have hopes of winding up in the first or second place.

ness of the Boston Braves has been doing excellent work in the box lately. Johnny Kling says he is the season's best find.

Hughie Jennings is going heavy on the recruits right now. In a recent game he had only three veterans in the line-up.

Cincinnati has released Pitcher Deake, one of the three players secured from the Akron team of the Central league.

Rube Peters, who came to the Sox via the Minneapolis route, has been sold to the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league.

Eddie Hallinan, recalled by the St. Louis Americans from Memphis, has been offered to the San Francisco club and may be sent there.

Pitcher Woodburn of the Cardinals is said to be a ventriloquist, and they say he had a lot of fun with his mates before they got onto him.

George Stovall will keep Veteran Jack Powell on his team, although he intends to clean out all the other old-time members of the Browns.

Derrill Pratt, the Browns' young star, is proud of his first year's record in big league. He is the only member of his team hitting over the .300 mark.

The Swedes who penetrated the unknown wilderness were a part of the colony which effected the first settlement on the Delaware in 1638. At that time this section of Pennsylvania was known as New Sweden. The question of encouraging the settlement of this region by the Swedes had been considered by the king of Sweden a decade prior to that, but his war with the Germans and his subsequent sudden death delayed and nearly ended the project.

A part of the congregation of the old Swedes' (Gloria Dei) church, which is now embraced in Philadelphia, under the leadership of Andrew Rudman, made an exploration of the Schuylkill in 1701 for the purpose of establishing an inland trading post with the Indians. They found suitable land several miles north of the Manatawney creek, where William Penn, the new proprietor of Pennsylvania, granted them 10,000 acres.

The settlement was named Morlaton and the Swedes lived in harmony with the Indians and thrived there long before the advent into the region of the English and German settlers. Their descendants are found in the locality to this day. Some of them, whose names are still perpetuated, were Andrew Bankson, Benjamin Burden, Peter Boon, Benjamin Boon, Justin Justason, Mounce Jastice, John Cock, Peter Cock, Otto Ernest Cock, Jacob Culin, Matthis Hulston, Morton Murtis, Peter Yocum and Mounce Tones.

Paris, France.—Rene Puaux, the military expert of the Temps, who was in close contact with the German emperor during the recent maneuvers of the Swiss army, quotes the emperor as summing up his satisfaction with the work of the troops in a conversation with President Forrer in the words:

"Your army saves me six army corps."

The emperor in conversation constantly insisted upon the necessity of understandings as the best means of dissipating suspicion, and declared his personal desire to maintain peace. On one occasion, in emphasizing this in conversation with President Forrester the emperor intimated to the president that he acquired much of his inspiration from the bible.

"I don't care much for priests and clergymen," said the emperor. "The dilute the gospel with too much of their own dogma. I hold to the bible, which I constantly read and reread. In it one find the solution of every difficulty, of every problem, even of a political description."

It is known that the emperor's main object in attending the maneuvers was to convince himself of the ability of the Swiss army to make the neutrality of the country respected in case of war, and his remark is interpreted to mean that by the Swiss army forming a screen to prevent the French from invading Germany through Switzerland, the Germans could release six army corps in south Germany for service in Alsace-Lorraine or along the Belgian frontier.

Wilmington, Markedly Strengthened Up in Several Weak Spots, Comes Here Sunday for Game With the Athletics.

WITH SIDES ARE DETERMINED

Last Clash Resulted in a Ninth, Inning Victory for the Locals But the Victory Was Clouded by an Argument on the Last Play Made, and About Which Local Fans Disputed.

Wilmington and Washington are going to meet next Sunday in a clash on the local baseball field and the contest promises to be one worth going miles to see. Both teams are determined to win if possible, both teams are in fine shape for a gruelling contest, and both teams have tightened up the weak spots with Ohio League players. The locals have replaced Ogle at first base with Mills, one of the star first sackers of the strong Ohio league, and the Wilmington boys have secured the high class Ohio league twirler, Grandel, to do service on the mound for them, in an effort to stop our heavy sluggers. Hagerty, of this city, will again backstop for the visitors and will watch every play made. The local lad is not only lightning fast as a mechanical player, but he is long on the "thinks".

All in all the game promises to be the very climax of a season of fast baseball.

So far the Washington boys have the record of a 2 to 1 game victory over Wilmington. This time they promise to have a victory so decisive that there will be no chance even for Wilmington to argue.

But Wilmington, on the other hand is determined to put one over on "our boys" and the game which promises to be close may go to either one of the contestants.

The two teams will present a line-up as follows:

Wilmington—Pohlmeier, ss; Gray, rf; Jones, cf; Hagerty, c; Mills, lb; Suttles, 3b; Smith, 2b; Taylor, lf; Grandel, p.

Washington—Jones, rf; Earley, 2b; Corwin, ss; Doyle, 2b; McCall, lb; Passmore, cf; Noon, lf; Ware, c; Reno, p.

REAL BOSS OF GIANTS

Responsibility Shifted on Former Oriole Captain.

Wilbert Robinson Given Credit for Success of Rube Marquard and Wonderful Showing of McGraw's Team This Season.

Wilbert Robinson, formerly backstop of the invincible Orioles, stands today in the spotlight of fandom as the most successful trainer in baseball.

Robbie is responsible for the success of Rube Marquard, and as well for the wonderful showing the Giants have made this season and last. Most of the honor goes to John McGraw, manager of the famous New York team, but if anything serious should happen to the little Napoleon there is little doubt that Robbie would step in to his shoes.

The result of Robinson's success is that he has been placed almost in entire charge of the team, McGraw electing to witness each game from the side lines, although all the work that once burdened his shoulders has been shifted to the Baltimorean. For his share in keeping the team in trim Robbie draws down $150 a week, and he as well is entitled to a liberal percentage of the receipts in every world series in which the Giants figure in the division.

Robbie recently spent two days in Baltimore. In an interview Robbie stated that his duties are to work out the players in morning practice, to select the pitchers for each day, to decide when a twirler is to be taken out and to work the signals from the bench.

"There is no doubt in my mind about the National league winning this season," Robbie says. "We've got the pennant clinched, and there will be a new champion team of the world when the big series of next fall is over with. There is no secret to the success of our team. It is the best aggregation of players in baseball, and there is not a weak spot anywhere. Team work figures largely in the results, but that's what makes or breaks any club, as without it no organization can expect to meet with the unprecedented success that has characterized our march so far this season and the latter part of last."

Oldest Structure in Berks County, Pennsylvania, Was Built by Swedish Settlers at That Time.

Douglasville, Pa.—Of much interest to automobilists passing through the Schuylkill valley is the old Swede house here. The historic structure, the oldest building in Berks county, marks the northernmost settlement in the state of the Swedes, who were the first white settlers of Pennsylvania. The building was erected in 1716 and with the exception of slight alterations stands as it did nearly two centuries ago.

Fromme Makes History.

Considerable history was made when Art Fromme shut out the Giants with one hit in Cincinnati. It was the first one-hit game in the National this season; it was the second time the Reds had beaten Mathewson this season and the first time on their own grounds since 1908.

McIntyre Sold Again.

Matty McIntyre drew his second release in two weeks when he was turned over to the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league. While the Sox were in the east arrangements were made to send the veteran outfielder to Milwaukee, but salary terms were not to Matty's liking. He refused to report, which caused Comiskey to call off the deal. McIntyre is well pleased with his new berth, and will leave for the coast at once.

FAMOUS HISTORIC ELM PRESENTED TO STATE

The Logan Elm Is Now Safe From Woodman's Axe and Is Property of the Buckeye State.

PRESENTATION IS MADE
YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Facts About Giant of the Forest
Under Which Logan Delivered
His Never-dying Speech to Lord Dunmore in 1774—Tree Is Supposed to Be 350 Years Old.

The famous Logan Elm, of Pickaway county, is now the property of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, the transfer being formally made with appropriate ceremonies Wednesday afternoon, in the presence of a large crowd who had gathered to witness the ceremonies.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM
SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT
STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.

Will E. Dale

The historic giant of the forest was purchased by the Pickaway Co.
Historical Society, and given by it to the State of Ohio so that it could be properly cared for.

The purchase embraced four and six-tenths acres of land in Pickaway county. For this the sum of $125 an acre was paid, a concession on the part of the owner, a public-spirited woman of Chillicothe, (Mrs.
Mary Wallace) as the land in that fertile section is conceded to be worth $150 an acre, without counting its value from an historical standpoint.
But she desired to give Pickaway Co.
the privilege of presenting to the State of Ohio this classic ground. The transfer will be made to the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, which has agreed to lay out, maintain and beautify the ground as a park, build a driveway to it, and build a house in which to store Indian relics and employ a care-taker.

When Chief Logan gave his famous message the tree was only of average size. Now its spread is about 150 feet in diameter.

Its trunk now is over six feet in diameter and over 20 feet in circumference. E. O. Randall, of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical society, says he believes the Logan elm is the largest tree in Ohio and that it must be between 300 and 400 years old.

This plot of ground contains also the Boggs monument. The monument is on the site of a log cabin which was the home of a pioneer family, and is also worthy of preservation, as it records, on its four sides matters of family and county history. One of these inscriptions reads:

"Under the spreading branches of a magnificent elm tree near by, is where Logan, the Mingo chief, made his celebrated speech, and where Lord Dunmore concluded his treaty with the Indians, in 1774, and thereby opened this country for the settlement of our forefathers."

The following is a copy of the message of Logan, the Mingo chief, sent to Lord Dunmore, in 1774, and delivered under the great elm:

"I appeal to any white man to say,
if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not. During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained idle in his cabin, an advocate for peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as they passed and said,
'Logan is the friend of white men.'
I had even thought to live with you but for the injuries of one man, Colonel Cresap, the last spring in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relatives of Logan, not sparing even his women and children. There runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any living creature. This called on me for revenge. I have sought it. I have killed many. I have fully glutted my vengeance. For my country I rejoice at the beams of peace. Yet, do not harbor the thought that mine is the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one."

YOUR GREAT GRANDMOTHER
MADE SOAP.

She would fill a barrel with wood ashes, let rain water seep through them to make lye, and then have soap boiling day, using all the bacon rinds and scraps of fat meat and grease she had saved. She made soft soap. Nowadays women don't have to ruin their tempers and their health and their looks making soap, or tolling all day over the washing.
Easy Task soap—a pure, white laundry soap made of clean tallow, coconut oil, borax and naphtha does the hard half of the work in the laundry and everywhere else in the house that a safe and sure cleaner is needed.

PROPHECY WAS TRUE

Tragedy Rests on House Near Grave of Slain Wooer.

Curse That Rests Over Place Near
St. Joseph, Mo., Had Its Inception When Two Rival Gypsies Fought Over Girl.

St. Joseph, Mo.—Built upon the unmarked grave of a murdered wooer, a little house stands upon a lonely knoll near Sax-ton station, seven miles east of St.
Joe, Mo., a thing accursed and shunned by those who know its history. They fear the baleful influences which are said to surround it.
During the 12 years it has been standing eight lives have been blotted out by violent means, illness and ill fortune have followed the advent of new tenants, the crops have failed, while those on neighboring farms prospered and a sequence of misfortunes has dogged the footsteps of those who have braved the place and its curse.

The curse that hangs over the place began before the house was built. It had its inception when two young gypsies, rivals for the hand of a daughter of the tribe, fell out over their love affairs and fought. The vanquished one stole up behind his sleeping rival that night and plunged a knife into his back. Then he went to the king of the band and confessed what he had done.

Whatever the motive which inspired the king—whether his heart was with the murderer or whether he did not want an investigation by the authorities—he ordered that the body of the slain man be taken to the knoll near by and buried.

It was years later that Christopher Schroers, a young farmer, building the house to shelter the wife whom he soon proposed to take, looked down from the roof he was shingling to see standing at the foot of his ladder an aged gypsy crone. She expressed a desire to tell his fortune.

"The fates are unkind," said the gypsy dolefully, shaking her head.
"You are soon to be married. You dream of a long life ahead. You think to gather with your children and grandchildren about this place.
But in your hand I see naught but trouble. Your dreams will not come

House on Which Curse Rests.

true. You will meet a death of violence, and your widow will be left to mourn alone."

"Get out with your bad-luck tales," said Schroers and laughed again.

"I read a truly," said the gypsy.
"The house that you build shall be a house of ill luck. Beneath one of the trees that shades it there lies a body
—one of my own tribe who was buried there by the hands of his friends. His spirit cries out for vengeance and a peaceful, hallowed grave. Until this is accomplished there shall be no rest for those who live here."

Schroers returned to his work whistling. If he ever thought of the gypsy woman's prophecy he did not mention it to the girl he soon married and took to live in the new house. A few months later, returning from St.
Joseph one night, Schroers allowed his wagon to tarry a moment too long on the railway crossing almost in front of his own gate. They picked up his mangled body a hundred feet away, and the wreck of his wagon was scattered along the right of way.

Tragedy has marked the place ever since.

BAD ROADS COST MILLIONS

Farmers Lose That Amount Yearly, Says A. C. Trumbo of Muskogee, Okla.

Denver, Col.—A. C. Trumbo of Muskogee, Okla., president of the trans-Mississippi congress, which met in Salt Lake City, declared that the producers of agricultural products in America lose annually $250,000,000 over their European neighbors through cost of transportation.

The solution of the problem, said
Mr. Trumbo, is in good roads, a question which he says the forthcoming congress is going to make paramount.

DATES FROM EARLIEST TIMES

Alfalfa, Probably Oldest Forage
Known, Can Be Traced Through World's Whole History.

Alfalfa, perhaps the oldest of all cultivated forage or hay plants, has had a history scarcely less interesting than that of many nations which have utilized it. Those nations have prospered almost in direct proportion to the extent to which they have used it. The name "alfalfa" comes from the Arabs and means "the best fodder," and in fact it appears to have originated in Media or in some adjacent country, as the folklore tales from lands on different sides of this area point toward Media as the place whence it came.

The wars of the Persian invasion of Greece took the plant to the latter country about 550 B. C., it being the custom for the advance emissaries to precede the army and to plant fields for the sustenance of the herds which helped support the invading hosts.
From Greece it advanced to Italy and Spain by successive stages, and was taken to Old Mexico by the Spaniards about 1519 A. D.

From there it was carried to South America and later (1854) entered California through the Golden Gate at the time of the activities incident to the discovery of gold in that state. Thence it spread over the irrigated sections and more recently has continued its march eastward until now it is by far the most important forage crop of such states as Nebraska and Kansas.

The First Climbers.

A Munich paper has been searching the records of history to discover who were the first mountain climbers. It gives the palm to Moses and his ascent of Mount Sinai, and rules out Noah for his ascent of Mount Ararat because he made it in a boat. There is sufficient evidence to show that the ancients thought mountain climbing sheer madness.

No one in the time of Horace or Polybius wanted to go climbing for a summer holiday. A Chinese emperor in the seventh century was the first to make climbing fashionable in the east. But the first true tourists in Europe seem to have been Dante, Petrarch and Leonard. Then came the Emperor Maximilian I., who used to hunt in the mountains near Innsbruck, and after him Conrad von Gesner and Josias Simler explored the Swiss mountains. But climbing for pleasure such as we know it today was not thought of until quite recently.—
Westminster Gazette.

Johnson on Melancholy.

Talking of constitutional melancholy, he observed: "A man so afflicted, sir, must divert distressing thoughts, and not combat with them."
Boswell—"May not he think them down, sir?" Johnson—"No, sir. To attempt to think them down is madness. He should have a lamp constantly burning in his bedchamber during the night and, if wakefully disturbed, should take a book and read and compose himself to rest. To have the management of the mind is a great art, and it may be attained in a considerable degree by experience and habitual exercise." Boswell—"Should not he provide amusements for himself? Would it not, for instance, be right for him to take a course of chemistry?" Johnson—"Let him take a course of chemistry, or a course of rope dancing, or a course of anything to which he is inclined at the time.
Let him contrive to have as many retreats for his mind as he can, as many things to which it can fly from itself."—Boswell (Life of Johnson).

FAMOUS HISTORIC ELM PRESENTED TO STATE

The Logan Elm is Now Safe From Woodman's Axe and Is Property of the Buckeye State.

PRESENTATION IS MADE
YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Facts About Giant of the Forest Under Which Logan Delivered His Never-dying Speech to Lord Dunmore in 1774—Tree is Supposed to Be 350 Years Old.

The famous Logan Elm, of Pickaway county, is now the property of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society, the transfer being formally made with appropriate ceremonies Wednesday afternoon, in the presence of a large crowd who had gathered to witness the ceremonies.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.
